

Amphenol Industrial & Aerospace Operations (AIAO)
Product Compliance Disposition

July 23, 2013

Dear Customer,

The Amphenol (AIAO) part numbers for which you have requested product compliance information are not released parts in our system, thus without an active BOM or drawings, AIAO cannot provide formal material declaration or content data.

To ensure due diligence of both parties, please follow the requisite protocol for factory part number release in the form of an Engineering Services Request. Should you require guidance on this process, please consult the Technical Support Team for further instruction.

Due to potential liability, Amphenol will not provide legally-binding product compliance data for unreleased or prototype products.

Should you have any further questions, please contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely,

John Bianchi
Product Compliance Engineer
